GIRL'S DEED TO OTTO BRANDT IS ANNULLED

Sonoma County Judge Restores Property to Former Oakland Woman Held Insane.

Following similar recent action by Judge T. W. Harris of the Superior Court, Superior Judge Rolfe Thompson of Sonoma county set aside deeds by which Otto H. Brandt, former farm hand, gained possession of more than $100,000 worth of property belonging to Miss Emma Merriman, a member of a well known Oakland family after she had become insane, according to evidence adduced in court.

The property involved in the deeds which have now been adjudged void by the courts of both Alameda and Sonoma counties, is valued at $131,000 and includes the old Merriman home place at Webster and Hawthorne streets, Oakland, and a 475 acre ranch in Sonoma Valley. The ranch alone is valued at $119,000.

According to the testimony, Brandt obtained employment as a farm hand on the Merriman ranch in the early nineties, and continued in that capacity until the death of Mrs. Annette Merriman 10 years ago. Mrs. Merriman in her will left all her property to her daughter, Emma, and she immediately appointed Brandt manager of her estate.

Last year Miss Merriman became insane, the testimony set forth, and in November was committed to the state hospital at Stockton. During this period it is alleged, Brandt induced her to sign over to him deeds to all her property, together with the key to her safe deposit box in the Central Bank of Oakland.

The safe deposit box contained, among other things, four diamonds worth about $1500 each. Brandt, according to the testimony, has been wearing these.

Suit to regain possession of Miss Merriman's personal property, including the diamonds and some horses and cattle, is now pending in the courts.

During the period in which Brandt acted as manager for Miss Merriman according to the testimony, he withdrew about 99 per cent of her cash, or about $100,000, from the bank, and spent a large part of it.

Recently Superior Judge Harris set aside the deeds by which the Oakland property had been conveyed to Otto Brandt. The action by Superior Judge Thompson, which affects the Sonoma county property, completes the restoration of all the real property to the Merriman estate. It is being held in trust by the Central National Bank for Miss Merriman who is still in the Stockton hospital.

The Merrimans were one of the oldest families in Oakland and were well known throughout the bay district.—Oakland Enquirer.

KUNDE AND BEHLER BUY BELL RANCH

Judge Dunne today confirmed the sale of Mrs. Teresa Bell's Glen Ellen farm, for $37,500. The buyers were B. J. Behler and Arthur Kunde.

A SPLENDID COMPLIMENT FROM SANTA ROSA

One of the best press notices of our celebration and Mission Play comes from the Santa Rosa Republican in a splendid article by Cecil Ethridge. We quote:

The community effort in staging the Mission Centennial is the greatest single evidence of cooperation ever presented in Sonoma county. This is agreed by the older residents who have visited the Mission town. With less than a thousand inhabitants to call upon, Sonoma stages a Mission play which is presented in such marked perfection that those seeing it become lost in the scenes unfolded before them on the stage erected in front of the Old Mission.

Sonoma's Mission Centennial will pass into history — the most successful and ambitious of Sonoma county shows, excelling in sheer merit the recent Burbank Jubilee and Prune festival in Santa Rosa by reason of the excellence of the show put on by Sonoma, a town a tenth or twelfth the size of this city.

DANCE AT JACK LONDON MEMORIAL LIBRARY ON 14

The Glen Ellen Women's Improvement Club will give its first dance in the new clubhouse, the Jack London Memorial Library on Saturday night, the 14th. As the clubhouse is admirably adapted for entertaining and the dance is for the benefit of the club it should be a brilliant affair.

THE FOURTH AT CONGRESSMAN LEA'S RANCH

Congressman and Mrs. Clarence F. Lea entertained at their Schellville ranch on the Fourth and also celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Lea's mother, Mrs. Churchill. In addition to Mrs. Churchill the guest of honor was Senator Herbert Slater. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy of Sonoma.

S. O. S. CALLS TO DOCTOR OVER 4TH

Dr. Hays was summoned to Sonoma Vista on the Fourth to attend a young man named Gordon who had gone in swimming too soon after a hearty meal, and was seized with a cramp which almost resulted in his drowning. When taken from the creek he was in a serious condition. Gordon is the son of a prominent bond broker of San Francisco.

Mrs. Llewellyn wife of a former employee of the Adler mill but now residing in San Rafael met with an auto accident while coming here with her husband for the celebration. Her forehead was badly cut and Dr. Hays was summoned to attend her.

FAREWELL SUPPER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy entertained the Mission play principals Miss Katherine Edson, Miss Doris Suckow, Daniel Totheroh and Phil Whiting at a farewell supper party Wednesday after the play.

Dr. W. B. Hays attended a banquet of his college fraternity at the Bohemian Club, San Francisco, last week during the session of the American Medical Association.

Sonoma's Mission Centennial will go down in history as the finest achievement of the century just past. The five days celebration of the founding of the Mission town was a splendid and fitting climax of 100 years of community development and progress. It exemplified the accomplishment of community pride and cooperation, recognition of our distinguished place in California's history, appreciation of modern day methods of calling attention to Sonoma Valley's claims to honor, and above all the production of the Mission Play was evidence of the cultural growth of the community and its appreciation of art. In Sonoma, Valley of the Moon, the fiesta combined the spirit of the Marde Gras, the spiritual note of the Pilgrims Play, the romance of the Desert Play and the color of the Portola.

The Centennial was ushered in Saturday, June 30th with band concerts on the old town Plaza given to the Pueblo of Sonoma by General M. G. Valjejo for just such fiestas. Sonoma fluttered with the fiesta colors red and yellow and the stars and stripes of course shone out above all where ever banners decked the streets. By evening brilliant electric illumination reminded revelers of the progress of science since the days of tallow dips and flaring torches.

The Mission glowed in the light of electric brilliance or faded into the twilight of the past at the will of the technician's switchboard. The Mission after a hundred years had come into the spot light of public appreciation. Its history from the memorable council at Monterey which permitted its foundation to the present era was retold. Garnet Holme, artist master of the drama brought out from the dusty archives of almost forgotten history the romance and poetry of our past. The Mission Play was a masterpiece and the master wove it not from imagination but from the real material which makes Sonoma distinguished among the cities of California.

The splendid presentation of the Holme drama was made possible not only by the high class professional cooperation of such artists as Katherine Edson, Doris Suckow and Daniel Totheroh and such geniuses as Phil Whiting and Larry Lewis but by the loyal women of the valley who for weeks sewed and fashioned costumes, help train children and made drives for the men and women necessary to the big production. Too much appreciation cannot be bestowed also upon the people from every section of the Valley of the Moon who neglected home, family, business and personal affairs for their community and its great five day's program. Contributing largely to the success of the Mission Play were the artists comprising the orchestra which added musical atmosphere and harmonious background to the drama, rendering music incidental to the play and characteristic of the periods of the several episodes. The personnel of the orchestra will be of interest to all who had the opportunity of hearing what was indeed a musical treat for music lovers at the open-air Mission theatre. The gentlemen comprising the orchestra were as follows:

Walter Manchester, Violin. Member of San Francisco symphony orchestra. Man of broad experience in all departments of profession. Wenceslao Villalpando, Cello. Formerly 1st cello with national opera of Mexico City, and of Baltimore Symphony. Well known soloist and artist in chamber music. Now member of San Francisco Symphony. Quinto Maganini, Flute. Prominent young artist and composer. Formerly member of San Francisco Symphony orchestra. Spending summer in California. Glen Hayden, Clarinet. Instructor of orchestra in Berkeley schools, member of faculty of University of California, department of music, leaving soon for a year in Paris. C. Steffen, Trumpet. Member of People's Symphony of San Francisco. Long and excellent connection with leading orchestra and bands of California. J. J. Matheson, Drums. Traveled extensively with musical organizations. Many years drummer in Orpheum orchestra. M. McMyers, Piano. Graduate of Boston Conservatory. Formerly music critic on Boston Times. For number of years music director in Alcazar theatre, San Francisco. Artist of splendid attainments and rich experience. Now of Philadelphia and San Francisco. Orley See, Violinist and director. Solo violinist and teacher, 8 years on faculty of eastern conservatories. Formerly with Cincinnati Symphony. Now a 1st violin in San Francisco Symphony and director of Philharmonic Trio of which Mr. Villalpando is also a member.

To review the play and do justice to it in the limited space of this weekly chronicle is almost impossible, but some outstanding features and high lights of it will be brought home to those who witnessed the production, whenever the Play is mentioned. The prologue as recited by the dark eyed beauty with the melodious voice of youth, the plaintive harvest song of the Indian maidens, the primitive torch light dance of the young braves of the first episode, the dignity and accuracy of the scene of deputation at Monterey, the reverence and spiritual beauty of the religious scenes, the magnificent acting of the young artist Daniel Totheroh in the role of Altamira culminating in the impressive procession of the original communicants, Indians, neophytes, Spaniards and Russians, and the never to be forgotten words of the zealous priest "and now to the glorious St. Francis I raise and dedicate this cross". On the very ground sanctified by the Catholic ceremonies 100 years ago this impressive and devout scene was reenacted. Standing like a monument to the pious men of a past the Mission which was destined for the glorious renaissance after 100 years, resurrected, restored and revived stirred the souls of men again. Revived memories of the zealous priest ran the gamut of emotion from deep reverence to pity for the changing fortune which cast him dejected and penitent on the altar of his hopes.

In contrast to this picture of sacrifice and despair came the brilliant wedding scene of episode two with its authentic church setting and three generations of the distinguished Valjejo family in prominent roles. Mrs. Lulu Valjejo Emman led the melodious refrain of La Golondrina, her

GIRL REVEALS HIDDEN ART IN SAVAGE STEPS

Katherine Edson, famous dancer of the west, is the only woman, in fact the only white person, who has been initiated into the mystic dance ritual of the Hopi Indians of Arizona. "Like the Natch dance of India," says Miss Edson, "it has a thousand significant gestures which have to be known by heart. A wave of the hand, a toss of the head, and volumes are spoken."

Miss Edson, a statuesque dark beauty, has a figure that sculptors have declared absolutely perfect.

She is the daughter of Katherine Phillips Edson, noted as a leader in state political affairs, and her father is one of the best known of Los Angeles composers.

Thousands have admired her acting in the Mountain Play. The Sonoma Mission Play has added for her, new laurels.

TOY AND DOLL FACTORY MAY COME HERE

E. T. Dooley and W. King of the Dooley Doll and Toy Company of Atascadero were in Sonoma during Centennial Week and after looking over this field consider it as excellent location for a branch factory.

The gentlemen came to place some of their novelties such as Indian and Russian dolls here for sale during the celebration and were so favorably impressed with the advantages of Sonoma that they will seriously consider coming here with a factory. The old High School building was suggested as a possible site. The factory would employ 50 people.

TELEPHONE OFFICE A BUSY PLACE

The local telephone exchange was swamped with business over the Centennial. With only two switchboards and two girls on a shift and calls almost metropolitan in number, the problem of good service was a hard one. The girls got on the average of 500 long distance calls daily and local calls never went under 1500 a day.

SANG LA PALOMA

Paloma Williams attractive daughter of Mrs. Alma Cutter Williams sang the favorite Spanish song La Paloma during the band concert Monday evening. Little Miss Paloma is a great granddaughter of the late General Vallejo, her grandmother being Maria Vallejo Cutter.

MISS LAURENZI HERE

Miss Catherine Laurenzi, and Miss M. Varucene of San Francisco were welcome visitors to old Sonoma this week dressed in brilliant costumes. Miss Laurenzi is the well known young lady grape buyer with C. Conforti and is again in the market for the 1923 vintage.

SIX MONTHS FOR BEATING WOMAN

Rocco Salcona of Fetters Springs was arrested and charged with battery (beating his wife) one day this week. He was sentenced to 6 months in the county jail by Judge Small.

SAN FRANCISCO WRITER PRAISES SONOMA'S PLAY

Elford Eddy, of the San Francisco Call, says Mission Play Best Ever Staged in California.

It is with a feeling of melancholy peculiar to scribes and pharisees that I leave Sonoma. It wouldn't hurt a bit if the solons of Sonoma were to determine to stretch the centennial celebration out another week, and the oversigned were to receive peremptory orders to stay put on the job.

A coterie of foreign correspondents from San Francisco, Oakland, Santa Rosa and way stations, oppressed by a sense of their great responsibility, came to Sonoma last Saturday in the pleasant expectation of being bored stiff. Newspapersmen are apt to be that way. Blase and everything. And then, almost before they had unlimbered their tired pencils, a startling realization struck them between the eyes. The Sonoma show was different!

After one has covered for great religious rallies the activities and other gestures of divers and sundry communities far scattered over the map for 20 years or more, the keen edge of anticipation is a bit dulled. That's one of the things that happen to you if you go in for writing for the benefit of the paid circulation. Imagine, then, the shock experienced by the distinguished foreign correspondents foregathered in Sonoma for the Centennial when they awakened to the realization that Sonoma's show was a guaranteed article, its success underwritten and assured by the efforts of the men, women and children composing the city directory.

The best sort of appreciation I could write, if Captain Stephen Smith of Bodega could find space for the effusion in the paper, would be to say:

"The Sonoma Centennial Celebration was a great success for the following reasons," and add the roll call of all persons residing within the confines of the Valley of the Moon.

If it makes any difference to anybody in Sonoma, I crave one more paragraph in which to say, state, assert and asseverate that in every way, from Garnet Holme's wonderful Mission Play of Sonoma, down to the popular popcorn vendor, it was the best thing of the kind I have ever seen. And I want to tell the prominent world that I crave to come again.

VALLEY NATIONAL OPENS IN NEW HOME

The Valley National's first day in its handsome new permanent quarters was the occasion of many felicitations and compliments. Many beautiful baskets of flowers carried greeting from well wishers to President Burris and his Board of Directors.

The bank is beautiful and modern enough for a city five times the size of Sonoma. Its officials declare Sonoma Valley worthy of it.

Miss A. Riensch, aunt of Wm. F. Clewe suffered a collapse this week and is under the care of a trained nurse. She has been in failing health for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of San Francisco and Miss Marion Stone of Berkeley were here to witness the performance highly praised the play.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

Detective Maurice A. Dowd of San Francisco, is vacationing with his family, at their summer home.

A number of young minnow trout have been planted in the different streams. The State Fish Commissioners distribute these fish each year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Conoma and Miss Eileen were Centennial visitors, visiting at the Mullen home.

With moaning, groaning and horrors, the whiskers celebration being over, this week was a busy one for the village barber. In turn they waited for the slaughter, bravely mounting the chair and have their decorations scraped from their beautiful countenance, never to be bloomed again. The celebration was enjoyed by our townspeople, and the management is to be congratulated on the way they handled the thousands of visitors, and the great celebration.

Many of the centennial visitors registered at the El Verano hotels during the conclave. Every participant did his part well, in the great play written by Garnet Holme.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Aubrey, newlyweds of Oakland were guests over the holidays at the Kearney home.

The Fred Jensens' and other friends have been here taking in the fiesta and will vacation at their summer home.

Louis Martin and J. Potterfield were recent business visitors here. Mr. Potterfield is a representative of a big fruit firm and has already contracted the Goldstein grape crop, which will be shipped via the S. P. from Agua Caliente. This Company's headquarters will be at Vineburg.

Geo. Matzen, sea-faring man, is, in town from San Francisco looking 'em over.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Boshe, newlyweds from Santa Cruz, have been guests at the Peter Boshe home, returning home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Johnstone, of San Francisco have been guests at the Minkel home. They were visitors to the Centennial celebration at Sonoma.

Dave Mannuch, theatre attaché, San Francisco, was a week-end visitor at Sonoma Vista.

P. H. McCarthy was a visitor at the big time in Sonoma over the 4th of July. Mr. McCarthy is a former two-term Mayor of San Francisco.

Geo. Gale of San Francisco was a 4th of July celebrator and visitor to the Gale home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Buttner and family of Santa Rosa were visitors at the Sonoma fiesta. Mr. Buttner is the S. P. Section boss, on the Santa Rosa division.

P. J. Hanley and family are at their summer cottage from San Francisco. Mr. P. J. Hanley is a San Francisco politician and business man.

Harry Lubbock and wife of San Francisco are vacationing in the Sonoma Valley at Steinkamp's resort. Mr. Lubbock was in the old days, a well known and prosperous business man in El Verano. He is now head of the Lubbock detective agency, Phelan Bldg., San Francisco and is known throughout the United States as one of the cleverest detectives in the game.

Mrs. H. Kirkpatrick and son of Santa Rosa has been visiting at the Dowdall residence.

Harry Rosemond, a star at the Orpheum theatre is a distinguished visitor in the city of El Verano.

Ed. Dowdall and wife were visitors over the centennial days, enjoying the great pageant at Sonoma.

Leo and E. Vincent who are now natives of San Francisco were here over Sunday greeting the old home guards.

Charles Danielli of a San Francisco rubber firm was in town Sunday. Danielli is an all around pool player, and during his stay carried away the championship of El Verano by defeating our cushion expert John Basilou. The game was a spirited one, and a large crowd gazed on the boys, as they shot the balls around the table.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Emmet Seawell of San Francisco and Deputy District Attorney, Jack Ford of Santa Rosa were at Sonoma, Sunday taking in the centennial celebration.

Leon Mouyer of the Wells Fargo Company, San Francisco was a guest at the Mouyer home Sunday at El Verano.

Buck Holley motored over from Stockton, taking in the centennial. His boxing club is flourishing in that city, and Buck is now a full pledged farmer, having bought a large cattle and alfalfa ranch. He was registered at the Parente Tourist Hotel.

C. Cramer and Bill Dowdall left for Vallejo Monday morning to register at the Navy yard.

Mrs. F. Venton has been a guest at the Andrews home over the big celebration.

Claude Lombard and wife of San Francisco were visitors to Sonoma Valley over Sunday.

John Vincent, El Verano's retired butcher, who is now residing in San Francisco has been visiting relatives and renewing old time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roper of Oakland arrived on Sunday morning by the S. P. route to the Centennial celebration at old Sonoma. Mrs. Roper is a Sonoma Valley girl, formerly Miss Maggie Biggins.

Mrs. M. Schmitz is visiting this week with Oakland relatives.

Mrs. N. Gallager of Petaluma is visiting her mother Mrs. M. McDevitt.

"TOOTS" SERES IS CHIEF WHISKERINO

The whiskers contest was the main event of Monday afternoon and after examinations of Judge and jury John "Toots" Seres, Agua Caliente's Beau Brummel was declared to be chief whiskerino and winner of the silver cup. The Seres adornment were of the Vallejo chops variety and the luxuriant black crop gave the Caliente farmer the appearance of a true Don Juan.

W. L. Murphy was absent from the trial so did not have a chance at the prize. He had the satisfaction however of being taken for the Gov. of California at the Jack London Memorial dedication. Murphy could not figure the figure he cut and proclaimed himself more like the Governor of North Carolina or the Governor of South Carolina.

The second prize whiskerino selected at the contest was Frank Giorno who had spinach a-la-Portola on his manly chin. Mr. Warren with more Vallejo variety whiskers was given the third prize.

Jack Reid and Geo. Crowe were attorneys at the whiskers trial and J. F. Prestwood the Judge. The jury had several lady members, including Mrs. W. B. Hays, Mrs. Dal Porto, Mrs. Perle Erasmus and Mrs. Isabelle Trudgen Pool of Los Angeles. The ladies said the twenty contestants looked so cute with the various types of beard that it was very difficult to pick out the winners. However they advised the liberal use of lawn mowers, acetylene torches or rakes immediately following the celebration. Whiskers are due for a slump.

Mr. and Mrs. Wernett, formerly of Richmond were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter during the fiesta.

POULTRYMEN ATTENTION!

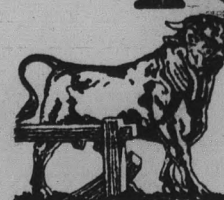

A poultry culling demonstration will be held at the Fritz Bolig poultry ranch in El Verano about 1-2 mile west of the S. P. Station on Friday July 13th, at 1:30 p. m. To make a success with poultry you must cull to eliminate the boarders and the closer you cull your flocks the better success you will have. These demonstrations are held to help poultrymen learn how to practice scientific culling the year around, but especially at this time of the year, to replace poor layers with pullets for next year's harvest of hen fruit. Be ready to ask questions of any kind about poultry. We all come to learn. Sonoma County Farm Bureau, Poultry Department.

District Representative,
Wm. J. Otten.

Misses Amelia and Josephine Caminata of the Examiner mechanical department were here on Tuesday renewing old friendships.

Among the San Francisco delegation visiting New San Francisco (Sonoma) this week were Senors Whelan, ex-sheriff of San Francisco, Wm. Young of the Harbor Commission, Chas. Fay, ex-postmaster, Rear-don of the Board of Public Works, James Callan, Harry Lubbock, Detective Sergeant P. Burke, P. H. Mc Carthy, ex-Mayor of San Francisco and many others.

Looking Backward

1887 (Jan. 15) At a regular meeting of the city trustees held last week, Mr. Wegner introduced a resolution for the improvement of the Plaza which was adopted with little opposition. It appropriates $400 for the purchase of plants and trees, the laying of water pipes for irrigating same. The trustees have now taken hold of this matter in earnest and in the course of a couple of years the Plaza instead of being an eye sore, as at present will be a handsome park of shade trees, lawns and flower beds.

1886 (April 24) The steamboat "Pride of the River" has taken the place of the Centennial and in consequence the trip between this place and the city is made in 1 hour less time. The Pride of the River is a handsome stern wheeler and is in every respect the equal of the "Donahue" which has been taken off for repairs.

1886 (April 17) "Sonoma and Glen Ellen are to have telephone connections with the outside world."

1886 (Feb. 13) The palatial residence of Mrs. Robt. Johnson on the Buena Vista ranch is nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy some time in April or May.

WILBUR HALL WRITER HERE FROM SAUSALITO

Wilbur Hall, the celebrated pageant writer and Chronicle contributor was an interested spectator at the Mission Play. He was most enthusiastic and declared the wedding scene of the second episode one of the finest and most realistic touches of the drama.

Hall wrote a historical pageant of Sonoma County for Santa Rosa two years ago. He is now working on a production for the Dons of Peralta of Oakland. While in the valley the playwright was the guest of friends at Boyes Springs.

WELL KNOWN PETALUMA VISITOR

H. D. Bruner the well known horse-shoer of Petaluma was a celebration visitor. Mr. and Mrs. Bruner resided in Sonoma for a year but returned to the Egg City to be near their daughter, Mrs. Doelling. The latter has been ill and in a Petaluma hospital the past week much to the regret of many friends, and the Petaluma Lodge of Rebekahs of which Mrs. Doelling is a prominent member.

SUPERVISOR EMMET HAYDEN IN SONOMA

Supervisor Emmet Hayden of San Francisco was a well known and welcome visitor her the fore part of the week. Mr. Hayden came especially to interview Mr. Garnet Holme, relative to the writing and production of a play of the "Pony Express." The San Francisco Supervisor is the son of a pioneer and takes a keen interest in community art and activities of the civic center in his city.

Mrs. F. D. Rowland and daughter Miss Edna, of San Francisco were celebration visitors Saturday and Sunday, coming up to visit their friend Harold Prestwood of the Sonoma Index-Tribune, who drove them home in his car Sunday evening.

Ex-Postmaster, Charles Fay, of San Francisco and a party of friends were here Sunday at the opening of the Centennial.

Miss Florence Heisner, of Oakland has been visiting Miss Celia Thomson of Sonoma for the past several days.

LONG LIFE

In buying a motor car, consider what the cost will be when divided over a period of years.

What is the car's reputation for satisfactory service after the first year? After the second? And after the third—and fourth?

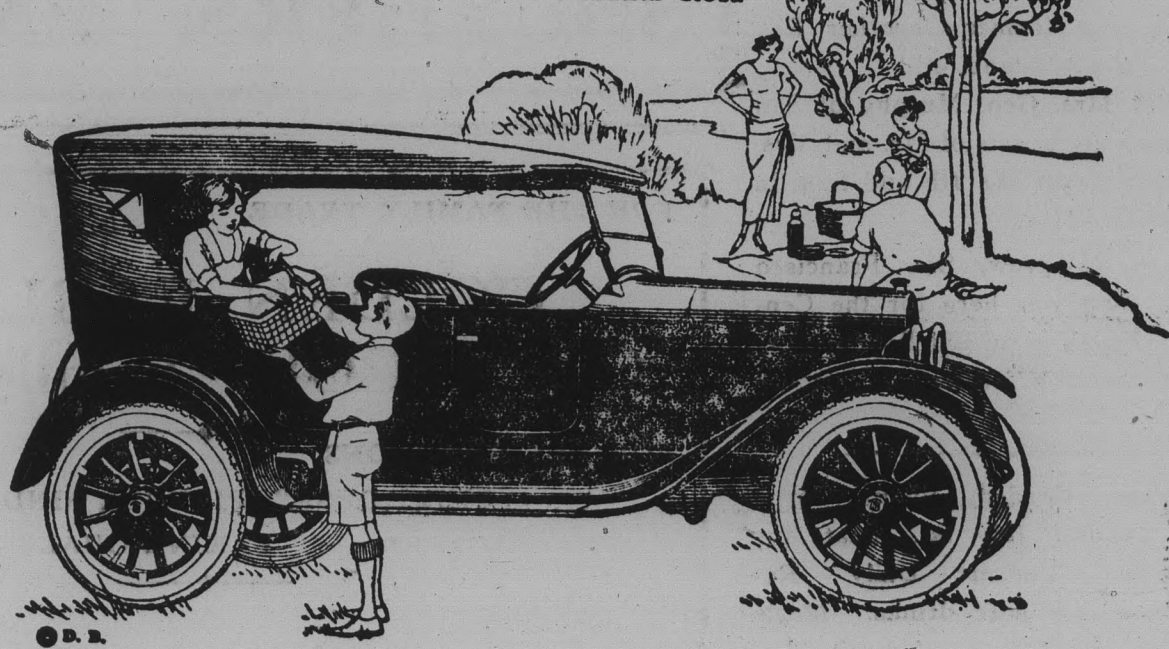

These considerations, in the final analysis, are the true basis of economy in motoring.

And it is this attribute of long life to which Dodge Brothers Motor Car owes its chief claim upon the unalterable loyalty of its owners.

What is a Watt?

A WATT is a unit of measurement, just as is a gallon, a pound or a yard. Suppose you used electricity instead of water in your garden hose. You would then think of the current as amperes, and of the pressure as volts. The current (in amperes) multiplied by the pressure (in volts) gives the power in watts.

One thousand watts for one hour equals one Kilo-watt Hour, which is the way you buy electricity.

This advertisement is one in a series explaining such terms as watt, volt, ampere, etc. Read each advertisement carefully.

GREAT FAME FOR NEW SONOMA

The Centennial has closed. A new chapter shall be written in the history of Sonoma and of a character directly due to the celebration just passed. The city has arrived on the map of California, and under the romantic and fascinating caption of a Mission town, it has demonstrated a community spirit and the ability to achieve, in a big way, worthwhile accomplishments. We amazed old and new friends with the spirit of the new Sonoma, a city destined to grow and prosper and stand out among other cities of our Golden State, because of just claims to background and characteristics which we were enabled to emphasize through our Mission Play and preliminary preparations. No small estimate should be placed upon the character of the cooperation which resulted in success, artistic and financial, for men, women and children answered the community call from every section of our beloved Valley and grasped the meaning of the magnificent opportunity to herald Sonoma's appreciation of its own advantages and to be host and hostess to thousands of visitors. If it took a century to develop the spirit just demonstrated, it were worthwhile. The spirit which builds cities and makes them grow is in Sonoma. It was marshaled and brought to the fore by means of the Centennial.

At this writing we do not know the status of the finances of the celebration. We do not know whether the money which made possible the preliminaries and reception for our friends and visitors has rolled back into the official till, but withal that and regardless of it, the five days Centennial has been a magnificent financial success. Thousands of dollars have been put in circulation in Sonoma Valley as a result of it. Thousands of dollars of money from the outside has been turned into local channels and left here. Sonoma Valley has benefited, concretely and abstractly, as a result of the coming of the crowds to our big party. We can well afford to underwrite, yes, and to pay if needs be, any sum requisite to such success. Sonoma Valley has achieved in a few weeks what has taken other communities years to achieve. Sonoma has accomplished what paid secretaries of Chambers of Commerce and city managers would have been drawing down salaries for for years. We took a short cut to fame. The fascinating publicity of the last few weeks has gripped interested onlookers the length and the breadth of California, and beyond it. The Index-Tribune is proud of the people of Sonoma Valley and their accomplishments in this project. We congratulate them, individually and collectively, on having done their work wisely and well. It spells success for the future for all the elements which go toward making a success Sonoma has proven she possesses. Onward!

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDS DRY LIBERALIZATION

The Sonoma County Grand Jury in its regular report has recommended that the Supervisors memorialize Congress to modify the present dry law of our land in order that laws may be better upheld and respected in this as in other sections of the United States. It was evidently the consensus of opinion among the conservative inquisitorial body that present conditions do not make for sobriety, let alone for respect of constituted authority and law and that prohibition as now functioning is a failure. What this Grand Jury has done is only to translate the thoughts of countless sane people into official findings. When sentiment correlates and thus takes form on this subject throughout the land, we believe the governing powers will take heed and give us sane and enforceable legislation in place of the arbitrary, hypocritical act which has been proven untenable impractical and plainly vicious. It is arbitrary because it infringes upon personal habits and customs and reflects punishment upon non offenders. It is vicious because it corrupts and weakens our national character while failing to accomplish the abolition of strong drink.

The bootlegger fears the pronouncement of such bodies as the Sonoma County Grand Jury because in it he hears the knell of his nefarious business which is flourishing like a rank growth in the present morass.

The fact that several intelligent women of patriotism and ideals were on the Grand Jury recommending the change of the statutes governing prohibition is of signal interest. Womanhood is quick to sense the need of better influences and in this case denounced the influence directly due to laws which defeat the purpose for which they were promulgated.

President Harding is right in his determination to enforce the laws of this great land but in order to have them instinctively obeyed and respected they must be laws expressive of American ideals. Temperance is the American standard. We must not foster radicalism however presumably moral.

SONOMA THE THEME FOR EXCELLENT BOOK

Mission Presidio and Pueblo of Sonoma is the title of the interesting narrative of the history of Sonoma by Honoria Toumey and Lulu Vallejo Emparan, the latter collaborating with Miss Toumey and supplying many details of the fascinating and instructive story.

Its publication and timely appearance during the Sonoma Mission Centennial was most fortunate for it threw light upon our hitherto obscure environment and gave the outside world the knowledge of Sonoma's prestige long regarded as merely provincial. The book in connection with the Mission Play is highly illuminating and is almost a score to the opera so to speak.

Mission Presidio and Pueblo of Sonoma would make an admirable text book and should be in every California school.

Miss Toumey, whose historical research work is widely known tool: an active and kindly interest in the Sonoma Centennial and contributed largely to its success.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

John Dunbar of San Luis Obispo, an uncle of Charley Dunbar, ex-postmaster of Santa Rosa was a pioneer visitor Monday. Dunbar is of a pioneer family who resided on the place now owned by Z. Lane (the former Engler place). His father ran a small brick yard there. The Dunbar school district near Glen Ellen is named for this old time family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Poole (Isabelle Trudgen) of Los Angeles have been visiting relatives here during the fiesta.

Dr. Flieger, Superintendent of M. E. Sunday Schools in the northern district brought his family here for the week and rented a house on 1st street east.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Hursh (Clara Tivnen) and their two boys of high school age were here for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dowdall (nee Lolita Harasthy) and daughter were here during the week for the big party.

Mrs. W. K. Roberts (Ethel Hunter) and daughter of Sunnival were guests of the former's brother Rea Hunter, July 3rd and 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Murphy of San Francisco were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dolfini over the 4th and took in the Mission Play.

Frank Mulgrew, San Francisco publicity man was here for the Centennial. Frank is an old Sonoma boy, the son of a former Sonoma Co. Sheriff.

Schumann Garden, Buena Vista, opened Sunday, July 1st. Seats for 350 people. Concert Daily Refreshments and soft drinks. Meals served. Dancing to good music. Entrance free. 45-4t

HERE'S TO YOU

This week witnessed the most wonderful sale of milk ever put through in Sonoma Valley, and we want to thank the people for the 80 per cent of that which we handled, for we gloriously did that.

Here's to you, Woodleaf Store which used 300 per cent more milk than your nearest competitor, but you haven't any competitor at all.

Here's to you California Light and Power Company, which gave us our phone within three hours after we filed our application. But we bribed Brother Garrison with a pint of sweet cold milk. That turned the trick.

Here's to you General John Pluth, who used that telephone, like this, 9:00 a. m., "Bring me in 40 quarts of milk". 2 p. m., "I need thirty more". 6 p. m., "Can you give me 25 more". 11:00 p. m., "Please shoot me in 60 quarts more. And you got 'em every time, didn't you, Johnny?"

There are a few hundred others we might name if space were free, but we want to say that it was worth working 20 hours a day and making seven deliveries that we might help to entertain Sonoma's biggest crowd.

Yours very truly,

Champlin and Peck, Proprietors of Sonoma Valley Jersey Dairy.—adv.

FIRES OF THE WEEK

The fire engines of Sonoma and Boyes had the expected rush over the week of the Fourth. The Sonoma engine put out a dangerous grass fire near the Sorini place.

The Boyes chemical engines answered eight or 10 calls the past week. In every case there was no loss except to the fire department. Chief Cause lost a lot of good chemical which it took to put out the fires, a tire which blew up on the big Valley Angel and he almost lost Jack Foster of the Alameda Fire Department who fell off the engine while rounding Main's corner. He received painful injuries. The engine also lost it's Reo crank. Finder please return.

World's Largest Bearings.

The largest anti-friction bearing in the world, recently on show in London, weighed more than a ton and was more than four feet in height.

INJURED IN 4TH OF JULY AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

F. Ducuing and his daughter Miss O. Wethers had an accident 4th of July night at the Bacala corner where they ran into a pedestrian and becoming unnerved lost control of the car and hit a tree. Ducuing was driving and when the car hit the tree his daughter was thrown through the windshield and badly cut. The driver got off with slight scratches. He is a cook at a local hotel.

MRS EMMA KOPF AND SISTER HERE

Mrs. Emma Kopf and her sister, Mrs. H. Bayer of Santa Rosa were guests this week at the home of their niece, Mrs. Annie Breitenbach. Mrs. Kopf will be remembered as the state, ly and handsome Columbia of the recent Santa Rosa pageant.

The ladies complimented Sonoma on the Mission celebration and marveled at the publicity accorded it by the papers throughout California.

E. J. PUCKETT HERE

E. J. Puckett student of California history and writer on themes of historical interest was here from Petaluma for the Centennial, his first visit in 20 years. Mr. Puckett relates many interesting reminiscences of General Vallejo and other prominent men associated with him. The visitor was more than pleased with Sonoma's observance of the Centennial.

A complaint charging the Rossi resort at El Verano with unlawful possession of liquor was filed this week and Rossi arrested. He is out on bail and has closed his cafe.

Centennial Brought Large Crowds; Was Great Success

son, Raoul Emparan voiced the true friendly spirit of the former Mexican commander and her granddaughter, Celia Thomson was the typical dark-eyed Spanish bride of the beautiful scene. Descendants of prominent Sonoma Valley pioneer families, including Bundschu, Adler, Weise, Clewe, Burlingame, Rufus, Just, Harris, Cooper, Dresel, Aguilon, McDonnell, Bates, Friedger and Green participated in the picture with costumes and jewels which were their proud heritage from early California.

The Bear Flag's making which was sent two of the Second Episode was a stirring presentation of the days of unrest just preceding to American occupancy and had the charm of early California atmosphere. Walter Bundschu in the role of Wm. B. Ide moving spirit and wise commander of the revolting forces was superb. The rugged picture of the rowdy element of the revolutionists as depicted by L. Bosch, H. A. Raffetti and T. Downey was very clever and colorful acting. The ladies of this scene were most excellent in their roles. Mrs. Burlingame again stressing her histrionic ability and Miss Cook proving charming as the pioneer lady of these stirring days.

The concluding episode was shortened after the first evening's production, but the fantasies of the Indian legend, California poppy, Russian romance, The Vintage and the friars were most beautiful as portrayed by the very clever trained cast of children.

At the final performance of the Mission Play Wednesday evening, Mr. Garnet Holme and his players were accorded an ovation, a wreath of laurel being presented to the author following a brief but beautiful tribute by Ben Weed. Incidental to the play were the superb dances of Katherine Edson, duet by the Sage brothers, clever pantomime and divertissement delightful, all contributing to the success and artistic beauty of a production which will never be forgotten by the thousands who witnessed the Sonoma Mission Play.

The Anniversary Mass

Sunday the second day of the Centennial was set apart for the religious observance of the Mission's founding by the Franciscan Order of the Catholic church and high Church dignitaries. His Grace Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco led the distinguished churchmen here and delivered the impressive an eloquent sermon during the open-air mass in the presence of thousands of people of all denominations.

A special train brought several hundred visitors representing the leading Catholic organizations of the bay cities which, led by the Knights of Columbus Band, paraded to the Mission. In the parade were many gaily caparisoned horses, costumed characters of the early days, '49 emigrants' wagon and decorated automobiles. The parade through the vast crowd assembled for the occasion was most excellently managed by Sergeant E. J. Thomson and Director Jack Reid. The counter march, control of traffic and everything was a credit to these gentlemen and their assistants.

At the Mission people packed the open air seats to full capacity and participated reverently in the mass commemorative of the great occasion. All Sonoma churches adjourned their services for this impressive ceremonial during which Mrs. Emparan sang and there was also a solo by Vincent Giorno, also the Veni Creator by F. Giorno.

Under a colorful canopy set up on the improvised altar, banked with Sonoma Valley shrubs and flowers, Archbishop Hanna, assisted by Franciscans, Rev. Father Byrne and other clergymen, conducted the mass. Archbishop Hanna dwelt on the import of the Missions as the harbingers of peace and civilization and plead for a present day generation worthy of their lesson of sacrifice for the betterment of the world. A mighty service is the present world's need, declared the noted prelate, and he prayed for national life in emulation of high principles and teachings set down by the founders of the Mission. With a warm summer sun shedding its effulgence upon the devout worshippers at the shrine of the Mission fathers, with the spot within the Mission walls hallowed by the remains of the pious and goodly grandmother of one of the choir at this ceremonial, with the faithful kneeling in prayer upon the spot dedicated to the holy St. Francis just a century ago, this mass was the sublime consummation of the wishes of all who love to see homage paid our shrines and our landmarks.

The interest manifest in the Centennial's religious phase and the large pilgrimage here from nearby cities for the occasion was largely due to the active interest and inspiring leadership of the resident Catholic clergyman, Father John Francis Byrne.

The Rodeo

The rodeo proved a thrilling exhibition of horsemanship and cowboy prowess and was given in the afternoon of July 2nd and July 4th. The attendance was excellent and save for one accident, nothing marred the splendid program of Wild West sports. Charles Roland of Santa Rosa was thrown from his horse Wednesday, his shoulder badly injured, and being dragged, may have been internally injured.

The crowds were well pleased with high class events for both days put on under the direction of Hazen Cowman, famous Valley of the Moon rough rider and cowboy.

The Spanish Theatre

The Spanish Theatre was a unique and beautiful feature among Centennial attractions. It appealed alike to the artistic lover of high class vaudeville entertainment and to the followers of community celebrations, to whom the charm of no charge was a refreshing revelation of Sonoma's big hearted hospitality. Under the clever supervision of Miss Harriet Jacoby, the Centennial Girls Revue was a revelation of grace and beauty. Well trained in the dance, costumed colorfully and in much variety of fashion, the amateur choruses had the zest of real professionalism. The Spanish Baby Flappers, the Wooden Soldiers and other features drew large crowds at every performance.

Miss Jacoby, Miss Kazan, La Carmencita and other soloists were given an ovation whenever they appeared.

County Participation

Petaluma and Santa Rosa Chambers of Commerce sent delegations to Sonoma's festa Tuesday. The first to arrive was Petaluma, who got up with the chickens and landed here with her egg basket bright and early at 10:30 o'clock. Secretary H. W. Kerrigan led the representation.

The pretty Petaluma girls were entertained by Frank Muller of the local executive committee while the pioneers, including the interesting and charming Native Daughter, Mrs. Josie Polk, were guests of the committee for lunch at the pioneer headquarters at the M. E. church.

The big Packard of Marion & Marion with V. Marion at the wheel, brought over a bevy of charming Petaluma girls in costume.

The Studebaker sedan of the same firm brought over Mrs. Josephine Polk, whose late parents were among the earliest settlers and Petaluma's greatest benefactors in the early days; H. Hammell, C. L. Lockwood whose father, the late Thomas Lockwood, was the first Petaluma settler; Otis Gale, a representative of a pioneer family and L. C. Bryce, the granddaddy of the poultry industry in Petaluma and its founder, all made talks or id stunts and made a splendid hit. Mr. Kerrigan, who was in charge, also spoke.

The young ladies who took part were as follows:

Margaret Frasier, pioneer girls of 1867; Sarah Fallon, Mexican girl; Kathleen Kelly, egg girl of 1920; Millicent Maus, Indian girl; Adelmia Buckett, egg girl, Spanish style of 1776; Florence Buckett, egg girl of 1823; Emily Spaich, egg girl of 1923; Bernice Wright, egg girl of 1534, Russian style; Margaret Kerrigan, representing all nations of 1878.

The Santa Rosa delegation was given the warmest possible greeting. Luther Burbank, honorary president of the chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Burbank, President Frank P. Doyle and Director Edward Jackson of the chamber of commerce and George Cadan were among the prominent citizens in the parade of Santa Rosa cars, to the plaza.

Two auto bus loads of the Boy Scouts drum and bugle corps of Troop 12, in charge of Scoutmaster Jesse, Peter and Assistant Al Simonet, made the trip. Forming at the Sonoma Valley Union high school, a procession entered the city, headed by the Patriarch Militant band of Petaluma, with General Director Jack Reid of the Sonoma Centennial in the lead. Sonoma official cars were followed by the Santa Rosa Boy Scouts.

At their head marched the Rev. S. E. Doyle and genial Carl Bundschu, Crowe, pastor of the Methodist church, and former scoutmaster for the Boy Scouts of Alameda and Sonoma. Santa Rosa automobiles loaded with visitors, followed.

After a procession up and down the street along one side of the Plaza the visitors were seated on the rostrum of the open air pavilion in the plaza and the scouts went through elaborate maneuvers, closing with the allegiance to the flag, led by Flag Bearer Tosa-cani with Scout Simonet delivering the allegiance ritual, and a "skyrocket" for Sonoma and "oski wow" for Santa Rosa. The boys then were taken in charge by Sonoma committee members and lacked not for ice cream and entertainment during the rest of the day and evening, remaining over for the evening presentation of the Mission play.

Jesse F. Prestwood, general chairman, welcomed Luther Burbank and the visitors, and brief addresses were given by Scoutmaster Peter, Frank P. Doyle and genial Carl Bundschu, chairman of the Santa Rosa participation effort of the chamber of commerce.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

The 1922 Grand Jury held its first meeting in the Sonoma county court house on Friday, October 13, 1922, and organized by electing Mr. Harley Smith, of Santa Rosa, forman, and Mr. J. P. McDonnell, of Sebastopol, secretary. Nineteen meetings in all have been held.

During the eight months that this Grand Jury has been in existence many matters pertaining to county affairs have been investigated.

Shortly after the first meeting of the Grand Jury, Mr. Clyde M. Gray was appointed to the position of expert and instructed to proceed to make a thorough examination of all books in the various county and township offices covering the period from June 30, 1921, to June 30, 1922, and report his findings to this body. Mr. Gray has been carrying on this work almost constantly ever since his appointment to the position, having two assistants during a considerable portion of the time. When certain irregularities were brought to light in connection with affairs in the county auditor's office, during the incumbency of C. A. Pool, as county auditor, Mr. Gray was instructed to carry his investigations of that office back beyond the date of June 30, 1921, and to proceed along that line until instructed by the Grand Jury to cease. This he did and the report of Mr. Gray is herewith submitted.

During our deliberations many matters of a criminal nature have been investigated and after a thorough and searching investigation six indictments were returned.

Dentention Home

The committee visited the Dentention Home and found the children happy and contented, the table was well provided for; the general conditions surrounding the children were fine, and we wish to commend the work done in this department.

We wish to commend very highly the efficient and praiseworthy service rendered to society by Mr. John P.

Plover in his service as a probation officer of this county. Many of his good deeds and kind acts will remain unknown to the average citizen while he goes steadily forward in his worthy work, and the same ought not to be unwarded.

Miss Pauline Olsen is doing thorough work in the Social Service department and is worthy of high commendation. Much of what she does must, like in Plover's office remain unknown, but she is worthy of the support and friendship of our citizens.

County Hospital and Farm

We found on our first visit that the above institutions were in a deplorable condition. The buildings are old and virtual fire-traps; dishes and cooking utensils were in a miserable state; lack of proper facilities for maternity cases; lack of wheel chairs for incapacitated patients; sewerage at the farm was found in a poor state of repair; wire screen for the exclusion of flies was badly torn and in some places was entirely missing. We also found the sleeping quarters of the farm in a dirty condition. A great amount of the blame for these conditions existing rests with the board of supervisors for lack of proper inspection on their part.

A sample of milk was taken from the dining room, and also from the hospital ward by your committee and tested for butter fat contents. That taken from the dining room contained less than 2 per cent butter fat, and that taken from the dining room contained 2.5-10 per cent butter fat. As you will see from this test, the inmates were being fed on a very poor quality of milk that is hardly fit for human consumption. Here again we feel that the supervisors are to blame for lack of proper inspection.

We urgently recommend that the board of supervisors provide ways and means to build a complete new institution for housing and treating our sick and aged indigents.

We also recommend that the supervisors inspect the county hospital and farm at least twice during each month, and we lay particular stress upon the necessity of testing the milk that is given to the inmates so that they will be served a quality of milk that has some food value.

We further recommend that a covered walk be built running from the farm to the dining room so that the inmates can go to and from their meals in the winter time and not be compelled to walk out in the rain as they are now doing.

In justice to the supervisors we will enumerate the improvements that have come to our notice since our first inspection.

New dishes, all cooking utensils were retined, sink relined, range repaired and put in first class condition, offices and operating room painted, papered and new flooring laid, new curtains for the protection of the tubercular patients were supplied; new screens for the farm, sewerage has been somewhat improved.

There may be other improvements that were made and have not come to our notice, and if so; they were not omitted on account of malice on our part. We have tried to be fair in our criticisms but considered it our duty to give the facts to the public as we found them and try to better conditions at our county hospital and farm, so that our indigents might receive the proper care and treatment that is their just due.

Referring to the deplorable condition of affairs discovered in the county auditor's office during the incumbency of C. A. Pool we direct the attention of the public to the statements contained in the report of Expert Clyde N. Gray. Mr. Gray delved thoroughly into the accounts of the auditor's office.

County Budget System

The amount of money raised for purposes of taxation in Sonoma county during the past year was approximately $1900,000; and it is proposed to raise approximately $2,200,000 for the current year; therefore, this body recommends the adoption of an annual budget system with full publicity and open public hearings by the board of supervisors prior to the adoption of such annual budget.

County Chapter

Since there is a great deal of criticism and expression of dissatisfaction with the present method of conducting the business and financial system of Sonoma county, therefore, this body recommends to our citizens the adoption of the county chapter form of government, and further recommends that the board of supervisors promptly call a special election submitting the proposition to our voters.

County Garage

On our first visit in November, 1922, to the county garage we found that the affairs were run in a very extravagant manner. However, upon subsequent visits we found improvements, and at the present time it is operated on a more economical basis, but there is still much room for improvement. The garage is kept in first class shape, regarding cleanliness and order of stock. The office and books are being kept in a very efficient manner.

We recommend to the incoming Grand Jury that investigations continue to the end that further saving be made.

We recommend that the board of supervisors memorialize the congress of the United States to modify the Volstead Act to the extent of permitting the manufacture of light wines and beer.

Roads

After a thorough inspection of many of the roads and highways of Sonoma county, the members of the roads committee call attention to the very important fact that the oil macadam type of road that has been constructed in various sections of Sonoma county during the past two or three years is a failure and we recommend that the board of supervisors discontinue the further construction of this type of road on the main traveled arteries of the county. We recommend that in future only a permanent type of road be built, as we consider the construction of a semi-permanent or temporary highway a waste of public money except in cases of great and immediate necessity.

County Jail

A thorough investigation was made of the county jail. We desire to report that everything was found to be in excellent condition. The offices, corridors, kitchen and cells were very clean and orderly.

REGAINED HEALTH AT SONOMA MINERAL SPRINGS

The Sonoma Valley Improvement Club and the Sonoma Valley mineral springs have a good booster in Colonel Parker of Fetters whose story of his own actual experience here is better than volumes of booster literature. The Colonel is an ardent lover of this valley because it restored him to health when everything else had failed and as a result he bought a little home here in the hills back of Fetters Springs and is now a loyal resident of the Valley of the Moon, and a member of the Sonoma Valley Improvement Club.

Colonel Parker came here nine years ago, a helpless cripple with rheumatism. The doctors in a hospital where he had taken treatment prior to coming here said that a change of climate might help him but further than that gave him no encouragement.

Discouraged but hopeful, Parker came to Fetters Springs and decided that if he put all his faith in the climate and mineral water he would cut out all medicine. With this determination he one day took all his medicine bottles out on the hillside and one by one broke them against a huge rock. He then started to take the baths and drink the natural sulphur water from Sonoma Valley's famed springs. In nine weeks he had regained the use of his limbs and before long was free of his suffering, a different man. "This is what the springs did for me, declares Colonel Parker, so I bought my little home above Fetters for I determined that any place where I could enjoy health was good enough for me."

Parker has traveled all over the United States and thinks there is no place like Sonoma Valley. When the Mission Centennial celebration was first launched he was among three committeemen who came with the Sonoma Valley Improvement Club delegation to pledge support to the 100th anniversary program.

REPORT OF SONOMA COUNTY GRAND JURY

No requests were made except that an increase in salary of the undersheriff was asked for.

The Purchasing Agent Referring to the charges or insinuations made in a Healdsburg newspaper against the conduct of affairs in the office of the purchasing agent of Sonoma county, we wish to state that after listening to explanations made by Mr. H. L. Hall, the purchasing agent, as to his method of purchasing oil, gasoline and other supplies, we are convinced that Mr. Hall is an efficient officer and that he is conducting his department in a strictly business-like manner.

Modern Accounting System Needed We believe that one of the greatest needs of Sonoma county is the installation of a system of accounting that will make impossible such flagrant irregularities, deceptions and misuse of funds as has been found to exist for many years past. No private business could possibly survive it conducted along the lines employed in the administration of affairs in Sonoma county. We urge the board of supervisors to take this matter up seriously and do everything possible to discard the obsolete and weak system of accounting now in use and substitute therefor, the very best methods that it is possible to employ. All county books should show a perfect balance at least monthly.

Publication of Grand Jury Report This Grand Jury goes on record as favoring an amendment to the Political Code authorizing the Grand Jury to print the entire report of its expert and foreman in a newspaper in three different sections of the county, this expense to constitute a charge against the county.

In Explanation It is a useless expense to have a Grand Jury spend thousands of dollars of the county funds making investigations of conditions in a county and then have its findings filed away with the county clerk without publishing the full report for the benefits of the public who pay the bills.

John E. Lindsey formerly of The Examiner and who covered the city hall detail many years was in town for the fiesta accompanied by his wife and a party of friends. Among the Lindsey party were relatives of Miss Octavia Copeland of Sonoma, prominent people in the musical world.

As to Misfortunes. If all men would bring their misfortunes together in one place, most would be glad to take their own home again, rather than to take a proportion out of the common stock.—Sonoma.

LAID TO REST IN MOUNTAIN CEMETERY

Wm. MacIntosh the pioneer banker of San Francisco and official of the Bank of California who died suddenly in Portland last week was laid to rest Monday. Interment was in Mountain Cemetery in the plot where the wife of deceased was buried a few years ago.

The remains were accompanied on the journey from San Francisco to Sonoma by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw and a party of friends. Following the last sad rites, the urners were driven to the home of their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bundschu by whom they were entertained.

SPRAY APPLES AGAIN FOR CODLING MOTH

Late apples will need to be sprayed soon, according to the Farm Advisor's office. Indications are that this should be done before July 15th for the Graton and Molino Districts. Other districts should time their sprays according to whether they are later or earlier than these districts.

Worms from the first brood have been coming out of the apples for over two weeks and the first moths should appear within a few days. They will lay eggs very soon after emerging and these eggs should hatch soon after the middle of July.

Origin of "Good-by." The meaning of "good-by," though sometimes erroneously given as "God buy—or redeem—you," is undoubtedly "God be with ye," and as such has been clipped into its modern form.

Celebration Brought Large Crowds; Was Great Success

Scoutmaster Peter earnestly pointed out the truth that the "wealth of the nation lies in its manpower" and told how the scouts are being prepared to take their places as the leaders of tomorrow.

Following warm exchange of greetings and acknowledgement by Mr. Burbank, Santa Rosa's leading citizens were invited to the handsome home of the Walter Bundschus where they were entertained and later escorted to the Mission open air theatre for the Tuesday night production of the great drama. The Boy Scouts attended in a body and their enthusiastic young voices rang out over the bleachers in yells of Burbank, Santa Rosa and other distinguishing cries of the yell leader's art.

The Glorious Fourth

The Fourth of July notable both as the National holiday, and as the actual date of the Mission's founding 100 years ago was a banner day of the celebration. At sunrise salutes were fired, and early with the biggest crowds in the history of Sonoma pouring in over every highway and road by automobile, stage and train the Patriarch Militant Band started a patriotic program of music which was preliminary to the literary exercises. At 11 a. m. Congressman C. F. Lea and Senator Herbert Slater were speakers of the day and were introduced by Chairman Prestwood of the local committee who first introduced Slater. The Senator was given a flattering ovation and in a short but eloquent address expressed in appreciation of the Mission fathers and the trail blazed by them into this glorious land. He paid tribute to the flag of the United States, to our California and to Sonoma, and to the new fame it had brought through the brilliance of its Centennial.

Congressman Lea was greeted with prolonged applause by a constituency who appreciated the oratorical treat in store for the large audience which thronged the plaza for the Fourth of July oration. The speakers found kinship in the work of Sonoma's Mission founder and the great forefathers of America who alike by self sacrifice and devotion to humanity placed milestones on history's pages. He reviewed the proud accomplishment of national independence, the victory of our fore fathers over a worthy adversary, their fight for the equality of all men and the writing of that ideal into the law of this glorious land. After reviewing the history of the Independence and heroic Americans' sacrifices the Congressman called upon the county and its units to prove worthy of their traditions with gratitude always uppermost in mind. "When we cease to be grateful, we cease to be worthy" was the truism stressed in this fine American talk by our brilliant Congressional representative.

Not alone in the presentation of all that the county originally stood for and guaranteed but in the preservation of all that is good and the betterment of all that is possible will America continue to lead the world said the speaker. He sounded the danger of an ignorant intolerant majority however powerful and dwelt upon the importance in popular government of the rights of the minority. The majority takes care of itself said the speaker. The minority must be taken care of. Patience and perseverance were required in times of adjustment declared representative Lea who admitted the laxity of law enforcement, violation of the sanctity of the home, widespread criminality and bigotry, to be problems of the hour. America's part in the war was characterized as the greatest military and moral achievement in the history of the world. While our economic and military prowess in the crisis was unparalleled said Lea, it was in the hour of meditation and in the paths of peace that America found her best self. As the remedy for war and war's aftermath he expressed faith in the world court plan of President Harding. "I believe it commendable" declared this broadminded statesman "The world is in the making let America help to bring it in closer accord with American intelligence and idealism."

ican intelligence and idealism."

The unveiling of the Goddess of Liberty statue of which Miss Beth Lane was the stately and beautiful replica was accompanied by a patriotic revue featuring Miss Eleanor Cochbourn of Santa Rosa as California, and Misses Rorden, Batto and Erickson as other nations prominent in the history of our country.

Band concerts, fire works and a patriotic carnival ball closed the 4th of July and Centennial festivities.

Bronze Plaque Gift of S. F.

Two hundred members of the Order of Alhambra visited Sonoma on July 4th to place the handsome bronze plaque at the entrance to the Mission on its 100th birthday. Rev. Robert Henry and grand commander Chas. P. Fox conducted the ceremonies after which the delegation partook of a banquet which had been arranged for them by Rev. Father Byrne.

Jack London Memorial Dedicated

The dedication of the Jack London Memorial Library Monday attracted a large crowd of well wishers of Glen Ellen Women's Club and admirers of the late Jack London.

The memorial library was erected by the Glen Ellen Women's Club as a community center. The building is of concrete construction, in mission style, and has a good sized auditorium in which community meetings may be conducted. In the "Jack London room" is a picture of the author hung over a fireplace built of bricks which are inscribed with the names of those who contributed to the library fund.

The dedicatory plate bearing the inscription "This Building Dedicated to Truth, Liberty, Toleration, by the Native Sons of the Golden West, July 2, 1923" was laid before the threshold of the new building after the grand parlor had been called in extraordinary session by Grand President William J. Hayes of Berkeley. Sand and gravel from every county, cement from every mill and water from every mission site in California were mixed and the tablet imbedded in it, in accordance with the ritual of the N. S. G. W. An American flag and a Bear flag were presented to the library later by Glen Ellen Parlor N. S. G. W.

Tribute was paid to the memory of Jack London by State Senator Herbert Slater, Grand President Hayes and Judge Fletcher Cutler of Eureka, second vice-president of the N.S.G.W. Mrs. Shirley Weise and Mrs. Rhea Hannon were on the program with appropriate vocal numbers. Mrs. H. Schieck was at the piano.

Guests were welcomed by President Weise of the club and by Mrs. Eliza Shepard, sister of the late author.

Mrs. Cora Merritt of Oakland representative of the Pioneer Women of that city gave a flag to the new library as a gift of her organization.

Kept Busy.

What is 'a Mare's Nest?

Certainly "mare" in this case has nothing to do with the horse. It is a corruption of "mara," a malevolent demon who according to tradition, possessed a nest filled with wonderful jewels and gold.

ORDINANCE NO. 180

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 70 OF ORDINANCE NO. 157.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma Do Ordain as Follows:

Section 1 — Section 70 of Ordinance No. 157, entitled "An ordinance licensing for the purposes of regulation and revenue the businesses, professions and occupations hereinafter specified, that are transacted or carried on within the limits of the City of Sonoma, State of California, fixing the rates of license tax, providing for the collection of same, prescribing the punishment for violation hereof, and repealing Article IX of Ordinance No. 68, Ordinances Nos. 84, 90, 92, 93, 94, 95, 100, 112, 113, 117, 121, 143, 144, 154, and all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 70. — Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $300.00, or, by imprisonment for a period of not more than ninety days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

In addition to the foregoing penalties, any person failing to take out a license and pay the license fee therefore as in this ordinance provided, shall be subject to a forfeiture of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per day for each and every day that such person shall continue said violation of this ordinance; provided, that this forfeiture shall not apply until from and after ten days from the date that said license and the tax therefor shall become due and payable.

All back and overdue licenses and penalties must be paid before any new license is issued and the license fee therefore accepted. The forfeiture herein provided shall be collectable by civil action in the Recorder's Court.

Section 2. — The City Clerk is hereby directed to cause this ordinance to be published once in the Sonoma Index-Tribune, a weekly news paper printed, published and circulated in the City of Sonoma and hereby designated for that purpose.
